

Good afternoon Parents/Carers,

We made it through another action-packed week and got to Friday so let's have a review of what's been going on in school this week.

All this week, I have had two marvellous helpers called Gracie and Olivia selling Poppy merchandise in the classrooms. I don't know what their sales technique is but they've sold a huge amount and I can't wait to find out just how much the school has raised. I will let you know the figure raised as soon as I find out. Rest those arm muscles this weekend girls as I'm sure they must be aching after carrying that heavy with coins donation box around and thank you very much for your help!

Yesterday we had a strange mixture of pupils at St George's because we suddenly had an influx of Pirates and Ancient Greeks. Silly me, it was the Year 2 and Year 4 Dantastic workshops. The children had a great time and they looked fabulous in their costumes (as did the adults, some relishing their characters with a lot of enthusiasm). Thank for your continued support in events like this. Please look out for the pictures on Facebook, either there already or coming soon.

We are very lucky to have two wonderful families who have allowed their children to represent school in the laying of our Poppy wreaths at the Cenotaph and Church on Remembrance Sunday. Elliott will be going to the Cenotaph and Lucy and Lily will be going to the Church. Thank you so much for doing this for school, I'm really looking forward to seeing the photos, (this might be a reminder to email them to me) and posting them on Facebook.

Please can children come to school in their PE kit on Monday (white top, black leggings/jogging bottoms), this is so the children can take part in the Commando Joe experience. Pupils and staff can also wear odd socks on Monday in aid of Anti-Bullying week. As we are collecting for Remembrance Day and Children in Need currently, we are not asking for donations for this. A small donation will be made from school on behalf of the pupils. Those families who wish to donate can do so via the Just giving page at Anti-Bullying Alliance-JustGiving.

On Wednesday it is the Fur, Feathers and Scales workshop for Reception class and Year 1. Not exactly sure what this entails but it sounds exciting (I know there will be no spiders involved because you wouldn't see Mrs Robinson for dust and I would be gone too). I'll update you on how this goes but I'm sure it will be great!

We have just finished Celebration Assembly and Year 5 have got 100% attendance. This means they get a non-uniform day reward. Normally this would be on Friday but this Friday is Children in Need Day so they will have their non-uniform day on Thursday. Speaking of Children in Need, this is non-uniform and or Pudsey merchandise. We kindly ask for a donation of £1 to this worthy cause.

Right, I'm sure I've bored you enough for another week so I shall bid you a fond farewell until next week!
